What is the congregation's or organization's vision for ministry:

We, as a church, are living out our mission, "Worshipping and Serving God, loving and accepting all." We serve a weekly community dinner joined by another local church and Kiwanis. In 2017, 4,282 meals were served of which we served 2,194. Our church also hosts a food pantry, not associated with our church. Last year 80,327 items were distributed to 11 780 families. We were designated a Hunger Action Congregation in 2017.

How do you feel called to reach out to address the emerging needs of your community or constituency:

We have discussed outreach to seniors who are relocating to large senior development housings in Union. We are considering reaching out to them with food and game nights, using our van to take them to community events, and hosting movie nights at the church.

The church band draws students from East Central College. We show them interest at church but also attend their concerts and performances elsewhere. Through that interest, we hope to encourage their personal and spiritual growth.

We share our facilities with several organizations: CASA, Delta Kappa Gamma, and a foster parents group. We are presently in dialog with a group planning to open a foster children's closet.

How will this position help you to reach your vision and mission goals:

We see the pastor as a liaison between the church and local community. We have previously helped in inner city work and gone to sites after disasters. A pastor with similar passion is desired.

Provide a description of the characteristics needed by the person who is open to being called to this congregation and or organization:

There are several personal attributes we find most important to our church and ministry. The pastor should be well-organized, collaborative, enthusiastic, compassionate, flexible, a participator, and most importantly models a Christ-centered life. Our pastor needs to be a "people person".

What specific tasks, assignments, and program areas will this person have responsibility?

We expect the pastor to participate with the congregation in outreach ministries while effectively completing pastoral duties. We are interested in a pastor who uses creative worship ideas.
